Bryan S. Silverman is an Associate in Lubin Olson's Litigation, Construction Law, and Real Property practice groups. He specializes in commercial litigation, with an emphasis on construction and energy law.

In his construction practice, Mr. Silverman represents property owners, construction firms, and developers in claims involving delay, defective design and engineering, and unforeseen site conditions. He also represents clients in the negotiation and drafting of design-build, engineering, procurement, and construction contracts.

In his energy practice, Mr. Silverman represents energy companies and consultants in state and federal regulatory matters and litigation with a focus on the Energy Policy and Conservation Act.

Mr. Silverman also represents clients in general commercial litigation, including professional liability, real property, and business dispute matters.

Before joining Lubin Olson, Mr. Silverman practiced with Murphy, Pearson, Bradley & Feeney in San Francisco. Prior to that, he served as a law clerk to the Honorable Lauren S. Holland in the Oregon Circuit Court for the Second Judicial District.
